A ghost appeared before our time, signalling to the modern-day era that it was from 1983.

Having the ability, to darken the wit, of every upper class CEO in the wall street industry.

That is why, in the common day, we think of the business CEO as a 'tyrant leader'.

Then, all of a sudden, a second ghost appeared from the metropolis billboards.

Hailing from 1978, the year before the ultimate horror boom that shocked a nation.

Both ghosts began to battle it out for control of this modern day era.

The reward, was complete control of the humans undying spirit.
